Our Mission

Transcend helps global market participants achieve next level performance results through innovative solutions that enhance liquidity, funding, and collateral decisions within a business-line or across the enterprise.

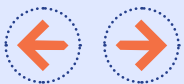

Meet Transcend

The Center of Liquidity, Funding, and Inventory Intelligence

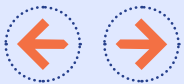

Collateralized products within businesses such as equities, fixed income and derivatives have evolved over the years, now leveraging disjointed technology systems unfit to properly manage collateral and its overall impact on the franchise. As a result, front-, middle-, and back-office teams are unable to make the most informed decisions, leaving millions in potential savings on the table every year.

By holistically integrating with your industry ecosystem and internal technology stacks, Transcend surfaces and leverages transformational business intelligence that improves financial performance, drives efficiency and lowers risk.
